Armadale arts FESTIVAL

3 - 19 MAY 2019

WEEK 3

13-19 MAY

It's the final week of the 2019 Armadale Arts Festival. There is still so much to do and see. Don't miss a minute of all the art, music, culture and literature of this year's Festival.

THE IMPORTANCE OF DIVERSITY IN LITERATURE

Friday 17 May, 6 to 7pm
Armadale Library

FREE BOOKING REQUIRED

Fremantle Press Editor, Cate Sutherland, will lead a thought provoking panel discussion, exploring the importance of diversity in literature. The panel will feature acclaimed authors Yuot Alaak, Rafeif Ismail and Scott-Patrick Mitchell. Panellists will explore why it is vital for literature to reflect the lives of all Australians and contribute to equality in society.

Bookings are essential. To secure your seat visit the Festival website.

ART HOUSE ON HOBBS

Saturday 18 and Sunday 19 May, 10am to 4pm
Art House on Hobbs, Hobbs Drive

FREE

The Armadale Society of Artists officially launches its new home at Art House on Hobbs, with a wonderful art exhibition of over 200 artworks and other art related products on sale all weekend.

Some of their talented members will be demonstrating their varied art styles in different mediums and a special ASA raffle will be held for your chance to win an original Leesa Padget artwork painted especially for the event.

THE HEALING ARTS

Saturday 18 May, 10am to 4pm
Minnawarra House

FREE BOOKING REQUIRED

Explore the mysteries of the healing arts in their many guises. Discover the benefits of nurturing your mind, body and spirit. The Healing Arts is a series of sessions for people interested in creative and alternative practices that promote wellness, healing and personal change. Enjoy a day of free sessions featuring a range of creative therapies and activities available. Children and parents welcome.

Bookings are essential. To secure your seat visit the Festival website.

ARTBEAT YOUTH FEST

Saturday 18 May, 11am to 3pm
Jull Street Mall

FREE

Artbeat Youth Fest will celebrate young people, Armadale and local community and youth organisations. Make sure you tell your mates and head to the Jull Street Mall for the live music, interactive workshops, art, game zones, henna and so much more!

CLASSIC SOUNDS ORCHESTRA BY CANDLELIGHT

Saturday 18 May, 7.30 to 9.30pm
St Matthew's Anglican Church

$ $25 adults and $20 concession/students/seniors

BOOKING REQUIRED

Returning from a performance for the Royal Schools of Music club, the Classic Sounds Orchestra presents a sophisticated program that includes Mozart's Symphony No. 40, Lord of the Dance, and Brahms' Hungarian Dance No. 6. The Classic Sounds Orchestra by Candlelight continues the legacy of classical music concerts at St Matthew's Anglican Church instigated by the late John Christmass OAM.

Bookings are essential. To secure your seat visit the Festival website.

MUSIC IN THE HALL - CATHIE TRAVERS

Sunday 19 May, noon to 2pm
Armadale District Hall

FREE

Cathie loves to play solo, and will be presenting a program of mostly South American music for the Music in the Hall series. You can expect some great latin grooves with fabulous melody!
